Build a version of the world the way you see it. Corkboard Map is a self adhesive map of the world fashioned from cork which serves two important functions. Firstly it looks fabulous and compliments any wall you stick it to; the world is pretty cool after all. Secondly, you can use the push pins to attach photos, postcards, tickets and mementos of your travels. Corkboard Map allows you to create a totally personalised and unique world map. You can literally picture your world. Here's an idea; if your friend is due back from their travels, get them one of these to distract them. That way you don't have to listen to all their stories from abroad as they'll be too busy pinning up their travel mementos.

For best results, stick firmly to a clean flat surface, holding each piece hard in the centre and smoothing out to ensure the edges are stuck firm. Please note this product is intended as a fun gift and is not an accurate representation of the world.
